ERNMENT AND STORM

FRANCE IS PREPARING

French Army is Doubled and Rhine Guards Will be Reinforced—Many Lives Lost in Fighting—See Monarchial Tendency

By United Press Leased Wire
Paris—(I p. m.)—Latest information from Germany received by the French foreign office indicated that the revolutionary movement of Dictator von Kapp
is doomed to failure.
The majority of socialists, democrats and even some sections of the reactionary elements have repudiated the revolution, foreign officers assert.
Von Kapp's final hope, officials believe lies in the organization of a pure Prussian cabinet. The revolution, the foreign office advises indicated, has failed completely in all the provinces except western Prussia.
France, it was said, has delegated Consul Brucere to go to Stuttgart to observe developments there. Ebert has called the national assembly to convene in Stuttgart on Wednesday.
Gen. Nollet, head of the French mission in Berlin, notifies the foreign office that he has refused flatly the request of General von Luetwitz, the revolutionary war minister, that the Allies extend the period for Germany's disarmament.

(By Henry Wood.)
Paris.—Dispatches today indicated that the reactionary coup, seizing the Berlin government, was threatening to throw Germany into bloody civil war.

A Zurich dispatch here today said
fifty prisoners had been killed in disorders at Kiel and twenty killed and more than 200 wounded in the fighting at Frankfurt.

Dr. von Kapp, dictator of the revolutionary government, has ordered the release of Prince Joachim, the former Kaiser's cousin, the dispatch said.
Joachim was held for the incident of March 6 when two French army officers were attacked in the restaurant of the Hotel Adlon because they refused to stand when the orchestra played a German patriotic song.
The French government, it was learned, will recognize no government in Germany that does not have the approval of the Stuttgart national assembly, presumably established by the deposed Ebert government.
France has decided upon this stand,
it was said, despite the fact that Herr Mayer, the German charge d'affaires here, acting under instructions from von Kapp, notified the French foreign office that the revolutionary government intends to fulfill
all Germany's obligations with the Allies.

The French war office today was preparing to double the number of its effective troops. Three army corps now are at Weisbaden, Neustadt and Bonn. It was said. The Saar basin troops will be reinforced.

A Munich dispatch says that Herr Hofmann has resigned after appointing General von Moell high commissioner for upper Bavaria. Army officers are demanding a military dictatorship, the dispatch said.

One Berlin dispatch said that the two right parties had announced they will support the government, although the leaders do not approve the revolutionary coup. This report said von Kapp had liberated all political prisoners except communists and Prince Joachim.

The revolutionary government, the dispatch said, has issued another proclamation reiterating its declaration that the de facto government is not reactionary and intends to work
for continuation of the republic.

PROGRAM TO ACCOMPANY SAFETY FIRST PICTURE

A three reel film and program dealing with the various dangers to factory and mill workers, will be presented at eight o'clock tomorrow evening at Lawrence Memorial church by the Employees Mutual Liability Insurance Company of Wausau.
The film was taken in mills and shops and shows the necessity of
"safety first" among the workers.
Stereoscopic views dealing with shop conditions and demonstrating means of making them better and preventing accidents wherever possible will be shown.
The program includes in addition to the movie, community singing led by Al Kroes, a representative of the company, and special music, songs and stories.

"God Was Good To U. S.", Sims Tells Probers

Commander Averts American Navy Was Utterly Unprepared to Cope With Submarine Menace During Early Stages of War

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—The American navy was pictured as being utterly unprepared to meet a German raid on troop ships early in the war by Rear Admiral William S. Sims today.
"God was good to us," Sims said
during his testimony before the subcommittee of the senate naval affairs committee conducting an inquiry into the navy's work.

Senator Reed read cables to show that the navy department was relying upon the grand fleet to cope with any German raiders "until the United States could act."

Negligence by the navy department in protecting troop transports
early in the war, was virtually charged today by Sims.

Sims declared he was "horrified"
at lack of precautions discovered concerning troop movements and asserted that the first transports reached France safely largely through
"good luck." Inadequate arrangements were made for destroyer escort through the danger zone, he declared.

Society women at social gatherings in Paris knew of troop sailings
before naval officials and General Pershing were aware of them, Sims declared.

Sims declared the navy department used an outworn peace time
code even after he warned that the Germans knew the key.

Failure to sink many transports was due largely to the desire of the Germans not unduly to embarrass the United States Sims thought.

Sailing of the first destroyer was published in papers in Berlin four days before the ships actually reached Queenstown, Sims said.

GERMANS LINING UP FOR TEST OF POLITICAL POWER

VARIOUS GROUPS ARE TAKING SIDES IN REVOLT—ROTH-SIDES PREPARING FOR ACTION

(By Ed. L. Keen)

By United Press Leased Wire
London.—The struggle between the von Kapp revolutionists and the Ebert government for control of Germany today apparently had settled down to a test of political and territorial power.

Dispatches indicated the present
alignment as follows:

1.—The socialists and democratic groups, with the backing of the powerful south German states of Bavaria, Baden, Saxony, Wuerttemberg and Hesse have declared themselves for President Ebert.

2.—Conservatives, nationalists and liberals, with the north German states including east Prussia, Bremen
and Prussia, have offered their support conditionally to the revolutionists.

3.—The centrist political group has held aloof, its leaders adopting a negative attitude.

Dictator von Kapp, dispatches said
was in constant conference with the Berlin political leaders, trying to win their unqualified approval of the revolution.

Late dispatches reported the general strike, called by the Ebert government in an effort to defeat the revolution, continues to spread thruout Germany. That the revolutionists realize the potency of this weapon
was indicated by a dispatch
quoting Defense Minister von Luet-witz intimating the revolutionary government stands ready to suppress strikes with machine guns if necessary.

The strike, a Berlin dispatch said,
has spread to the Krupp works at Essen and thruout the great Ruhr
and Dusseldorf industrial districts.

Other dispatches said the revolutionary government has ordered the arrest of Mathis Erzberger, former minister of finance; Chancellor Bauer and President Ebert.

In London, the Allied supreme council went into conference in Downing Street to consider the situation in Germany.

AMERICA ENTERS TEAM IN OLYMPIC ICE GAMES

By United Press Leased Wire
New York.—America's first formal attempts toward competition in the Olympic games was taken today when the American committee cabled its entry
for a team in the ice hockey contest
of April 26-30 on the Brussels canal.

A request was also cabled to permit
the entry of two crews in the rowing race instead of one as provided for on the existing schedule. It was explained that America would not have the time to stage an elimination series between collegiate and club crews before July 5, the day when the entries must be made.

Ralph Roberts of Fond du Lac was a visitor here Sunday.

THREE EFFORTS TO CHANGE ARTICLE X LOST IN SENATE

SENATE REJECTS THREE PRO-POSED RESERVATIONS TO MOTTED CLAUSE OF TREATY

"BITTER ENDERS" GAIN HITCHCOCK DENIES HE RECEIVED LETTER FROM WILSON BUT ASSERTS PRES- IDENT IS FIRM IN STAND AGAINST LODGE RESERVATIONS

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington, D. C.—The senate today rejected the Frelinghuysen reservation to article X of the league of nations covenant.

This was the first of the pending reservations to this article to be voted on.

The vote on Frelinghuysen's resolution, was 17 to 59, only republican and democratic irreconcilables supporting it.

The vote on the reservation showed that Wadsworth, Sutherland and Fre-linghuysen have joined the republican irreconcilables as they have been threatening.

Following rejection of the Freling-huysen reservation, Kirby, Arkansas, democrat, introduced a reservation to which forty democrats have pledged their votes.

The vote on this reservation was 31 to 45.

Kirby followed defeat of the reservation by offering the Taft reservation. Forty democrats also had agreed to support this reservation.

The Taft reservation was quickly
voted down by the senate.

Concerning reports that he had received a letter from President Wilson rejecting the Lodge substitute reservation, Senator Hitchcock today said that he had not received such a letter but had "verified his belief that the president would not accept the Lodge substitute."

W. J. Bryan was expected at the capital during the day to urge democrats to disregard Wilson's view and accept either of the Lodge reservations.

Hitchcock may offer an amendment
today to the Lodge substitute, providing that for ten years after ratification of the treaty, the reservation on article X shall not apply to matters affecting the territorial integrity or political independence of France, Belgium, Italy, Czechoslovakia or Yugoslavia. A similar proposal was rejected by the senate last November.

FARMERS ARE PLANNING TO EXTEND ACTIVITIES

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago.—Millions of farmers—
products of the war—came to Chicago
today to do a little re-organizing and spend money.

The farmers, members of the farmers' grain dealers' national association planned to spend three days extending its activities. Last year the association did a business of more than a billion dollars in grain and $140,000,000 in farm supplies. Now the farmers are planning to add a mutual fire insurance company and a cooperative trust bank to the association.

risonburg, 956 or 20.4; Winchester 1-

WOOD WINDS UP HIS CAMPAIGN IN DAKOTA

By United Press Leased Wire
Watertown, S. D.—Major Gen.
Leonard Wood began a final campaign for South Dakota primary votes today, speaking at Clark. He will address a mass meeting here tonight and will remain in the state
until the primary March 25.

The South Dakota primary, with five republican and two democratic candidates in the field for the presidential nomination, will give the first expression "from the people" in the country.

TRAIN SERVICE ENDS AS MEXICANS FIGHT BANDITS

By United Press Leased Wire
El Paso, Texas.—Fighting between Villista forces and Carranza troops has caused suspension of train service between Juarez and Torreon. Villistas along the border near here claim the rebel leader has launched a new military campaign. Small railway bridges around Bachimba, south of Chihuahua City, have been burned by Villistas.

NEW JERSEY MAY TEST DRY LAW IN THE HIGH COURT

PERMISSION IS GRANTED NEW JERSEY TO FILE COM-PLAINTS AGAINST U. S.
OFFICERS

HEARING ON MARCH 29

Government and State Urged to Expeditious Argument so That Case
Can be Disposed of—Other Cases Pending

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—Supreme court today
granted the application of New Jersey to institute a suit in the high tribunal attacking constitutional prohibition.

The court granted the state permission to file a bill of complaint against federal government officials charged with the enforcement of prohibition.
The proceedings are similar to those brought by Rhode Island which are now awaiting the final decision of the court.

Chief Justice White asked the government and New Jersey to expedite argument in this case, expecting that final decision on the Rhode Island and other cases already argued would be delayed until the New Jersey suit is heard.

The government then asked that the New Jersey and other appeals reaching the court be heard Monday March 29.

The object of the proceedings is to knock out the prohibition amendment and the instead enforcement law. A permanent injunction restraining the federal government from enforcing prohibition in New Jersey is asked in the bill of complaint.

The basis of the complaint was that prohibition was not a valid subject for a constitutional amendment and that it infringed on state sovereignty.
The case probably will be heard before March 29 as the court takes a recess on that date.

Four more appeals attacking constitutional prohibition were submitted to the court today and the government joined with the liquor forces in asking that arguments also be advanced to March 29.

A new angle of attack appeared in an appeal of William C. Street, New York, who seeks to have the United States deposit company prevented from removing his liquor from their vaults under the provision of the Volstead law subjecting all personal liquor to seizure unless it is kept in a private dwelling.

The decision of federal Judge
Geizer at Milwaukee two weeks ago
holding the Volstead law unconstitutional was appealed by the government.

Other appeals were from California
by J. J. Dillon and from New Jersey by Christian Feigenbaum, head of a large brewery corporation.

ALLIED MILITARY LEADERS MEET TO DISCUSS ACTION

U. S. WILL WAIT RESULT OF CONFERENCE ON RHINE—AMERICA IS TO PAR-TICIPATE

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—President Wilson and the state department today adopted a policy of "watchful waiting," pending indication of the course which will be taken by the Allies in the German upheaval.

Interest here centered on the meeting which will be held today between Marshal Foch, Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson, chief of the British imperial staff, and Major General Henry T. Allen, commander in chief of the American army of occupation
in Germany, at Noyen. French headquarters on the Rhine. It is understood that the meeting was called by Foch to determine on Allied military action in view of the revolution.

While Secretary Baker has received no word from Gen. Allen hearing on the revolution, it was said that the American commander has full authority to participate in the conference. Allen, however, has no authority to bind the United States forces, it was pointed out, except insofar as he is permitted by the conditions still existing between the United States and Germany.

Baker expected to be advised immediately by Allen of the progress and results of the supreme military conference.

Allen immediately will use his command of approximately 15,000 troops at Coblenz, to enforce order in the German territory occupied by United States forces, it being understood that his orders direct him to keep peace in the occupied area.

Mrs. Agnes Arnold has returned from a three weeks' visit at Oshkosh.

Louis Ziesemer of Kenosha visited here Sunday with his brother, the Rev. R. E. Ziesemer.

"Night Rider" Case To Open Here Tuesday

Grand Jurors' Suit To Recover $25,000 Damages for Alleged Injuries in Loan Campaign Scheduled for Trial

The case of John Deml vs. Stephen Balliet, et al., which has been repeatedly postponed will go to trial at the courthouse tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock. Judge Oscar Fritz of Milwaukee sitting for Judge E. V. Werner.
The jurors of the March term of circuit court have been ordered to report, but it is expected that the panel of thirty-six will be exhausted in short order, and that one hundred or more other residents of the county will be summoned before twelve men can be secured who know nothing about the case or who have not already formed an opinion. The plaintiff will be represented by Coehms, Wolfe and Konalski of Milwaukee and the defendants by Martin, Martin and Martin of Green Bay and Rooney and Grogan of Appleton.

Deml is suing Balliet and several other Appleton men for $25,000, alleging he was injured to that extent
during the Fourth Liberty loan campaign when a party of alleged "night riders" are said to have stopped at his home.

Deml alleges in his complaint that he was mistreated by the alleged night riders and that he was attacked with a rope. The defendants have twice appeared before a court commissioner in an effort by Deml's attorneys to obtain the names of other men said to have been implicated in the alleged raid.

JOHNSON AND BRYAN ONLY CANDIDATES IN DAKOTA PRIMARIES

PRIMARY ELECTION TOMORROW WILL NOT BE INDICATIVE OF PRESIDENTIAL SENTIMENT

By United Press Leased Wire
Bismarck, N. D.—Those who vote in the North Dakota presidential primary tomorrow are expected to be followers of U. S. Senator Hiram Johnson and William Jennings Bryan
—the only two entered in the primary officially.

The republican forces are divided three ways and one faction re-naming itself the "regular republican" body, advised republican candidates for president to remain out of the primary. The faction dominated by the national partisan league—now in an effort to gain adherents, a News Agency dispatch said, it was reported, the dispatch said, that the independent and other socialists groups
have refused to have any dealings
with von Kapp. The democrats have announced they will remain faithful
to President Ebert while the centrists
have adopted a passive attitude.

Von Kapp continued his negotiations within the political parties today
in an effort to gain adherents, a News
Agency dispatch said. It was reported, the dispatch said, that the independent and other socialists groups
have refused to have any dealings
with von Kapp. The democrats have announced they will remain faithful
to President Ebert while the centrists
have adopted a passive attitude.

Two distinct sets of candidates for presidential electors, national committee and national delegates are in the republican primary. One ticket is that of the "regular republicans" and the other set was endorsed by two conventions—one termed the "progressive republican" convention and the other called by William Leake,
chairman of the republican state committee and leader of the non-partisan league.

There are also two democratic slates for presidential electors, national committeeman and national convention delegates. William Jennings Bryan is the only democratic presidential candidate named and his name was placed on the ballot against his expressed will.

So far as the national campaign is concerned the North Dakota primary will not necessarily be indicative of general sentiment, because there is no competition for favor.

GEORGIA MAN SUCCEEDS ROPER AS REVENUE HEAD

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—William Martin
Williams, solicitor for the department of agriculture, has been chosen by President Wilson to be commissioner of internal revenue. It was announced at the white house today.

The nomination probably will be sent to the senate today. Williams succeeds Daniel C. Roper, whose resignation becomes effective March 31.

Williams was born in Georgia. He is a graduate of Harvard law school and practiced in New York until 1917,
when he became a departmental solicitor.

FOUR KILLED WHEN SUB SEA BOAT GROUND

By United Press Leased Wire
San Diego, Calif.—The destroyer
Wooley was enroute today to the relief of the submarine H-1, beached near Point Redondo. Lieutenant Commander J. R. Webb and three of the submarine crew were killed in an accident, according to reports to the naval base here which had no details.

here today on business.

GERMANS DIVIDED IN THEIR ALLEGIANCE TO THE TWO GOVERNMENTS

ICE BOUND LAKE SHIP IS FREEING ITSELF

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago.—Officers of the Goodrich Transit Company said today they expected their ice-bound steamer, Illinois, to make the Chicago harbor tonight. The boat, caught in the ice off St. Joseph, Mich., received help from a sister ship, the Missouri, which sent supplies over the ice field. The Illinois carried a crew of 65 men. No passengers were aboard, officers said.

FUTURE OF GERMAN REVOLT DEPENDS ON WHAT PROVINCES DO

GENERAL STRIKE CALLED BY EBERT IS SPREADING MORE RAPIDLY THAN THE REVOLUTION

By United Press Leased Wire
London.—A News Agency dispatch from Berlin today says that for the present the revolutionary government
plans to continue its two man dictatorship with Dr. von Kapp and General von Luetwitz in supreme control.

General Erich von Ludendorff called at the chancellery yesterday, the dispatch said.

Indications here up to early afternoon were that the struggle of Germany's two governments for supremacy
has been comparatively peaceful so far. Success or failure of the revolution still is in the balance, official advises here indicated. The attitude of the provinces, which is not yet clearly defined, will finally determine whether the revolution is proven a "flash in the pan" or result in permanent overthrow of the Ebert government, observers believed.

The Ebert forces so far are depending upon the general strike as their principal weapon, dispatches indicated, and the strike is spreading faster than the influence of the revolutionists.

tions within the political parties today
in an effort to gain adherents, a News
Agency dispatch said. It was reported, the dispatch said, that the independent and other socialists groups
have refused to have any dealings
with von Kapp. The democrats have announced they will remain faithful
to President Ebert while the centrists
have adopted a passive attitude.

Berlin dispatches declared
some members of the deposed government have come out in opposition to the revolutionists
there.

Radicals have taken advantage of the general confusion
to declare a soviet republic in the Hof and Schweinfurt districts, one dispatch said. It was said, has been called to meet at Stuttgart Wednesday.

The Allied government apparently will take no active hand in the situation unless further developments render it necessary.

A Paris dispatch, however,
said Marshal Foch had said that Allied troops occupy the Ruhr and Essen industrial districts.

The Dutch government, an Amsterdam dispatch said, has reinforced troops guarding the former Kaiser and crown prince.

TEXAS CITY VISITED BY MILLION DOLLAR FIRE

By United Press Leased Wire
Grandview, Tex.—Several hundred persons were homeless here today among the ruins of dwelling and business houses burned from a district three blocks wide and several blocks long. Damage was estimated at $1,000,000.

The fire started from explosion of an incubator.

RAIL CONSTRUCTION WORK WILL BE STARTED SOON

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago.—Return of full engineering corps to the railroads probably means renewal of railway construction, according to E. K. Bennett, chief engineer of the St. Louis and Minneapolis roads today.

Bennett, attending the annual meeting of the American railway engineers association here, said construction had been stagnant since 1907. The engineers will discuss the outlook during a three day session here.

visitors at Oshkosh Sunday.

SOUTH GERMAN STATES REFUSE TO ACCEPT NEW REVOLU- TION AND FIGHTING IS TAKING PLACE

ORDER GENERAL STRIKE

Success of Von Kapp Government Is Threatened by Strike Ordered By Ebert and His Aides —Promise Trial of War Guilty

Extensive opposition to the German revolutionary government which seized power in Berlin Saturday, was indicated in today's early dispatches.

The Ebert government, according to a Dresden dispatch,
has refused the request of the revolutionists to enter into

CREATOR RETAINS ADMINISTRATION OF LIFE, PEABODY SAYS

MAN'S CHIEF BUSINESS IS TO FIND WHAT HIS CREATOR PLANNED FOR HIM AND THEN DO IT

"Our life is a commission given by God. He not only owns our lives, but administers them."

Those words were the keynote of Dr. H. E. Peabody's sermon on "The Trusteehip of Life" Sunday morning at the First Congregational church. His message was a final admonition to the congregation before launching out on the city-wide "forward step" week, in which all people are urged to take to themselves a greater consecration of Christian duty, or take their first step into the Christian life.

That our time and tasks are not our own but distributed with greatest care was brought out by Dr. Peabody. Not only is God the owner of our lives, but He administers them. We are entrusted with liberty and left free to choose for ourselves. Our personality is respected in working out His business. This the speaker illustrated by the life of David Livingstone, who had his mind made up to go to China, but had an inborn talent for exploring which he did not know of, and was sent to Africa.

"God's business includes not only the affairs of your life, but of the city where you dwell," he continued. "His business includes the tremendous, seething life of this great nation. America, too, must hear the great prompting and impelling of the Master and go out and finish the work that He has set for us. His management of us is greater than the nation or the world, and includes the world beyond the grave. We are just trustees of this life, that is all."

"If God has given you the talent, however small," Dr. Peabody went on, "and if you are faithful with it, your service is a permanent contribution to the great accomplishment of His purpose, and will be remembered on the judgment day."

The pastor then commented on the futility of accomplishments of those who tried to lead the people any other way than in line with the purpose of God. Our greatest achievement, he stated, has become entangled with selfishness of purpose, both individual and national.

"It would seem somehow," he said, "that we are in imminent peril of having that great achievement so costly crumble in our hands, and the nations overseas and here slide back to where they were before the war set a new vision. Nothing can save a nation except for it to accept the principles and live in the spirit of Jesus Christ."

Turning then to the personal side of the subject of trusteehip, Dr. Peabody admonished his hearers that they should be eager to find a place in the business of the Lord, and that

SMALL CHANCE FOR WOMEN TO VOTE IN APRIL ELECTION

SENATE BATTLE OVER CONFIRMATION OF COLBY APPOINTMENT MAY DELAY SUFFRAGE

Unless a miracle intervenes to blaze a short cut through the maze of congressional red tape which has tied the suffrage situation in a knot, it seems highly improbable that Appleton women will be able to vote at the municipal election on April 6.

Although there is every reason to believe that the suffrage amendment will have been ratified by the thirty-sixth state long before that time, a delay in acting on the confirmation of Bainbridge Colby as secretary of state will, in all probability, prevent the amendment from becoming effective.

The senate can take no action on Colby's appointment until its foreign relations committee finishes an investigation into the reasons why President Wilson asked Secretary Lansing to resign, it was stated by Senator I. L. Lenroot in an interview on Saturday in Washington.

This investigation is said to be still in the early stages, and several weeks probably will elapse before a report is presented. In the meantime, if the ratification of the suffrage amendment by the secretary of state before becoming effective, the women have but a forlorn hope of voting on April 6.

Ratification of the Susan Anthony amendment within a few days by the Delaware and Washington legislatures is declared certain by suffrage leaders. These two states will make a total of thirty-six that have approved the measure.

The deadlock over the Colby appointment, however, offers an apparently insurmountable obstacle to the amendment becoming effective in time to give women the right to ballot in the city election. Official announcement has been made that it will become effective only upon formal proclamation by the secretary of state.

EXCELLENT MUSICAL PROGRAM AT CHURCH

MONTHLY CONCERT BY METHODIST CHURCH CHOIR DE-LIGHTS A LARGE AUDIENCE

The First Methodist church was filled to capacity last evening for the monthly musical service by the church choir. The anthems and solo numbers were exceptionally well rendered under the leadership of Dean Frederick Vance Evans, director of the choir.

The opening anthem was "Angels of Bethlehem" by Keller, and the other ensemble numbers consisted of "The Lord is Exalted," by West; "Thy Will Be Done," by Wolcott; with Mr. Ketchum carrying the solo parts; "Grant Us Thy Peace," Gounod; "O Worship the Lord," by Watson, and "Praise the Lord" by Watson. A most versatile program resulted, tremendous in its volume in the climaxes, yet graceful in the diminuendo of prayer and supplication.

Mrs. Winifred Wilson-Quinn appeared in several solos and solo parts, as did Prof. Carl Waterman and Dean Evans. The former's numbers were "Thou Wilt Keep Him in Peace," by McDermid, and in company with Dean Evans, the scene between the widow and Elijah from the anthem "Elijah" by Mendelssohn.

HOUSEWIVES ARE PROUD OF BREAD MADE OF GOLD MEDAL FLOUR. 2-15

The Y. M. C. A. Blues basketball team, one of Appleton's strongest amateur quintets, has issued a challenge to any amateur team in the state. Efforts are being made to arrange games with Green Bay, Fond du Lac, Racine, and Twin City Cardinals. A contest with the Cardinals will probably be staged this week at the armory.

The Blues line-up comprises former high school and college basketball stars, well known all over the state. Kenney is a Bushy business college man, Wheeler, Kubitz and Dasing, played with Lawrence this season and Colvin starred with the Appleton highs for three years.

The Blues won second place in the Y. M. C. A. basketball league, and have scored victories over several outside teams.

Postals were received by friends of Thomas J. Verneulen today from Holland, containing greetings from his native country. They were postmarked Eindhoven and Esterbrook, where he is visiting at the present time. He left recently for Holland to visit his mother.

In so accepting the talents the Lord has given us, we ought to be able to make some contribution to the life, progress and happiness of mankind. He named the greatest forward step as the willingness to yield our business to the program of Christ. The second great step he named in this manner:

"How eager we should be to discover what the talents are that the Creator has implanted in our nature; to discover them at all hazard and to train them; to say, 'I will accept his inward guidance and take the trusteeship and let him guide and manage the business of my life.'"

The inspirational result and the opportunity that presents itself to even the weakest man was mentioned by Dr. Peabody. Speaking of the Inner-church World Movement he said it was a needed encouragement from afar; that it was doing with faith, hope and love what the armies of the allies couldn't do with guns. A good forward step would be for the Christian people here to take a share in that offensive.

Senator Wadsworth says an organized field army of 2,000,000 men can be mobilized within five years at a cost of not more than $590,987,000.

A Knights of Columbus bowling team called the "Appleton Specials" will go to Milwaukee next Sunday to roll in the K. of C. state tournament. The lineup will consist of Harold Timmers, captain, John West, Albert Stoegebauer, John Kramer and Frank Stoegebauer.

On Sunday, March 28, the regular five from the local order will roll in the tournament. Leo Stoegebauer is captain of this team, and its members are Paul Abendroth, Henry Marx, J. B. Langenberg and Henry Hoesackers.

The Kaukauna knights are also booked to bowl next Sunday.

The league contest will close April 29 and prizes for the season will be awarded at a banquet April 30. The leading point winner will receive the place of Commander of the Order of the Square, and will be awarded a silver medal. His enlarged picture will be hung in the Boys' Division.

Second high point winner will receive a bronze medal and third place will receive a year's membership in the Y. M. C. A. A trip to the Cherry Pickers' camp at Sturgeon Bay is offered to the winner of fourth place.

The winning league team will be awarded a banner.

A banquet will be given at 6:30 o'clock, after which a general discussion of the jewelry business will be taken up.

The state jewelers convention will be held at Milwaukee April 6 and 7, and a delegation will probably be worked up at the session here so that the valley will be well represented.

Southern Mothers Have Found a Way to Treat Children's Croup and Colds Without Internal Dosing

ALL mothers everywhere know that children's stomachs are delicate and their digestions easily disturbed, and therefore they should be given as little internal dosing as possible. Yet croup and colds come often and certainly cannot be neglected.

A North Carolina Druggist Solves the Problem

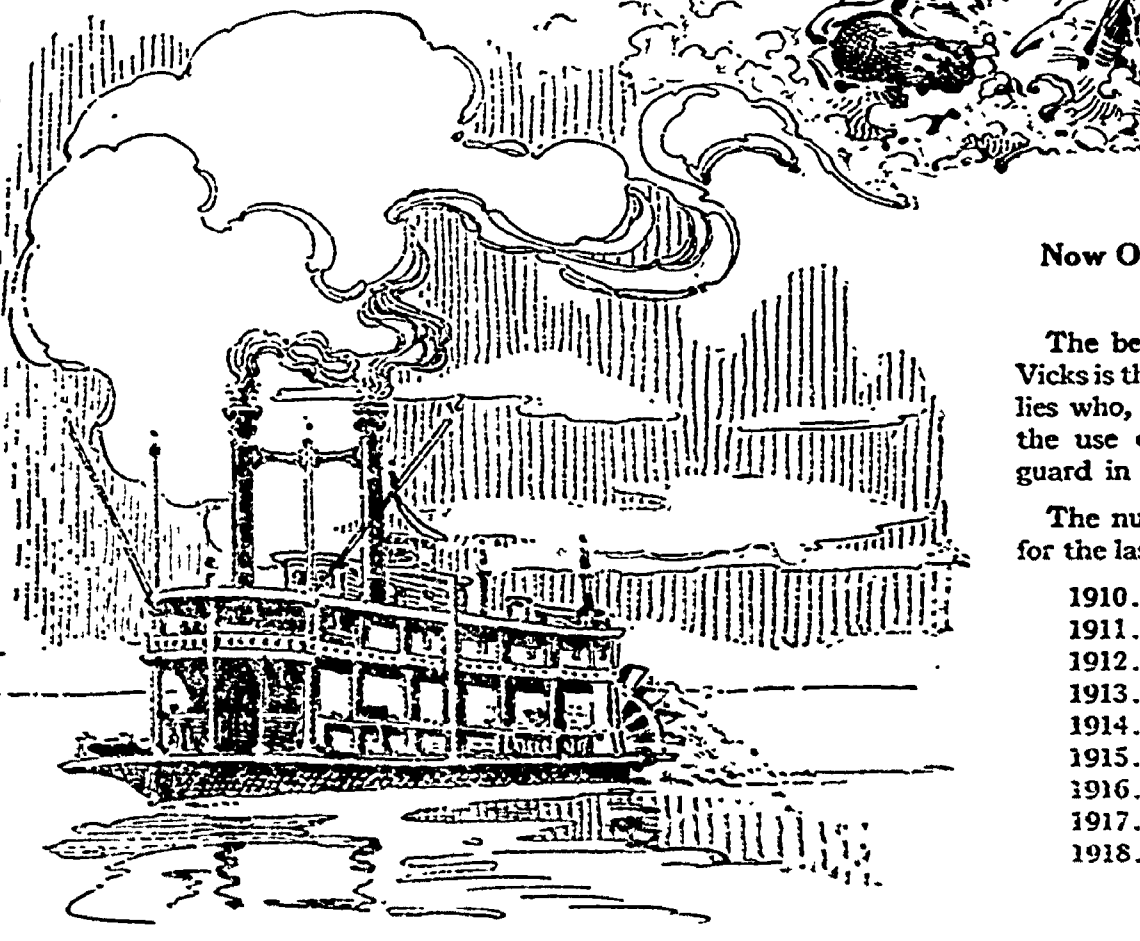

Thanks to Lunsford Richardson, a druggist in Greensboro, N. C., this problem has been solved, and Southern mothers have been given a method of treating cold troubles externally. Mr. Richardson discovered a salve that would vaporize by the body heat when applied over throat and chest. These vapors, inhaled with each breath, carried the medication through the air passages to the lungs, at the same time the salve was absorbed thru and stimulated the skin, attracting the blood to the surface and thus aiding the vapors inhaled to relieve the trouble. This preparation Mr. Richardson called Vick's VapoRub.

Vicks contains no harmful drugs, just the old-fashioned, time-tested remedies—Menthol, Camphor, Thymol, Eucalyptus, Turpentine; etc.—combined in a new-fashioned way.

The Use of Vicks Has Steadily Increased

Starting with the customers of Mr. Richardson's retail drug store, the sale of this external treatment has grown, county by county, state by state, until now Vicks can be found in almost any drug store in all sections of the United States.

Mothers who once use Vicks always keep a bottle on hand thereafter. It is so easily applied, so quick in its effects, and, best of all, can be used as often and as freely as desired, without fear of harmful results.

Now Over 17 Million Jars Are Used Yearly

The best evidence of the value of Vicks is the increasing number of families who, each year, are converted to the use of this real "Little Bodyguard in the Home."

The number of jars used annually for the last few years is:

1910.....	347,748 Jars
1911.....	523,152 Jars
1912.....	1,027,068 Jars
1913.....	1,357,590 Jars
1914.....	1,462,330 Jars
1915.....	2,418,213 Jars
1916.....	4,302,764 Jars
1917.....	6,799,511 Jars
1918.....	17,377,403 Jars

DIRECTIONS FOR THE USE OF VICKS

Vapors Important—For these troubles a large part of the value of Vicks lies in its vaporizing qualities. So whenever Vicks is applied over the throat and chest, care should be taken to leave the clothing loose around the neck and the bed clothes arranged in the form of a funnel, so that the vapors arising may be freely inhaled.

Hot Wet Cloths—In cases of deep chest colds, severe sore throat or incipient pneumonia, hot, wet towels should be used over the throat and chest to open the pores of the skin before applying Vicks.

For Head Colds, Asthma, Catarrh, Hay Fever—Vicks can be melted in a spoon and the vapors inhaled, or a little should be applied up the nostrils and sniffed up the head.

For Spasmodic Croup, Children's Colds—Rub Vicks over the throat and chest until the difficult breathing is relieved, then spread on thickly and cover with a hot flannel cloth. An application at bed time usually prevents a night attack of croup. Vicks is particularly recommended for children's colds since it is externally applied, and can, therefore, be used often and freely without disturbing the youngsters' delicate digestions.

For Deep Chest Colds, Sore Throat, Tonsillitis, Bronchitis, Coughs—or any affection of the respiratory organs where there is tightness or soreness, Vicks should be applied over the throat and chest—if necessary, first using hot wet cloths—and rubbed in well until the skin is red; then spread on thickly and covered with one or two thicknesses of hot flannel cloths. If the cough is annoying, a small piece the size of a pea can be swallowed every few hours.

Minor Ailments
In addition to its use for Cold Troubles, Vicks has been found excellent as a salve, liniment or plaster for troubles such as Bites, Burns, Itchings, Soreness, Sunburn.

THE GERMAN UPRISING.

While the eruption in Germany looks like a genuine revolution, it is too soon to estimate its exact character or its effects. It may be accepted without question as a movement of the reactionary element to gain control of the government, but whether it represents a purpose to restore the monarchical system can be determined only by further developments. While names of leaders committed to the old regime are mentioned in connection with the stroke at the Ebert administration, the attitude of those who would naturally be looked to for strength and influence in behalf of a monarchy is not disclosed. Von Hindenburg and Ludendorff are said to have been planning to run for the presidency.

Whatever the facts, the situation is ominous, not only to Germany but to the allies. An attempt to restore the Hohenzollern dynasty is unlikely. It probably is the most remote of any contingency. Prematurity alone would insure its failure. The allies would never permit such a step, no matter if the people desired it, and there is no evidence that they do. But there could be a reactionary change severely inimical to the treaty, and we may expect that France and Great Britain will take prompt measures to see that no such menace arises.

Civil war is not unlikely, and an internal conflict might lead to the gravest of consequences. Undoubtedly there would be an effort to bring about a coalition with the bolsheviks of Russia. It is to be taken for granted the allies are prepared for military occupation of Germany on short notice, a course of action which may be compelled at any moment.

FOREIGN SCHEMES THAT FAILED.

If Lenin and Trotzky were better acquainted with the history of the United States they might be less sure of their ability to bring about a revolution of the American proletariat. They might, but there is no certainty that they would be, for the foreigner never seems to be able to see American conditions in their true light. If they cared to, however, they could acquaint themselves with the significant fact that this is not the first time foreign governments have failed miserably in their efforts to use for their own purposes discontented elements in this country.

Fifty-odd years ago, for example, Louis Napoleon, the aspiring and adventurous emperor of the French, dreamed of a "pied-a-terre" for France on the Florida coast and even of recovering a foothold in Louisiana. He thought he saw his opportunity because the North and the South were at war over the state-secession question, reasoning that the South would of course give him what he wanted in return for substantial aid. But when the confederate government was guardedly approached and informed of the scheme Secretary of State Benjamin caused it to be very clearly understood that "we do not intend to allow ourselves to be made a convenient instrument for the accomplishment of the designs of others." The confederates fought determinedly for separate nationality—or "self-determination," as it would now be phrased—but, for the sake of aid, to fall in with a scheme to plant European power on American soil was quite another proposition, and one which they indignantly spurned.

Even as late as 1898 the Spaniards thought they could make use of supposed discontent in the South. It was seriously proposed to foment revolt there and then invade the United States through Florida or another of the Gulf states. The scheme did not mature for two reasons, one of them being that the war ended too quickly. But even before Spain was defeated her statesmen recognized that they had miscalculated for they saw the South go heartily into the war, old Confederate commanders such as Wheeler eagerly accepting commissions. In 1917-18 the Germans knew enough not to try the same game, choosing rather to follow with modifications an old Mexican scheme, the plan of San Diego two generations ago to establish a black nation in the South and get back the territory acquired by the United States after the war with Mexico. Germany promised Mexico for her aid the return of her "lost provinces" and set to work to stir up insurrection among American negroes. This also failed for a variety of reasons. Negro servants were known to inform their employers that when the Germans won "the colored people would be on top" in this country, but probably few negroes thought the effort would be worth the candle and no doubt practically all of them distrusted the Germans. Besides, many drafted negroes and doubtless some volunteers were in the armies of the United States, and this had its inevitable influence.

The Bolsheviks saw unmistakable discontent and unrest in the American proletariat, white and black, and by means of it they hoped to overthrow this country's institutions. What they did not see was an inbred distrust of foreigners and foreign leadership. There is something of the old Confederate scorn of self-seeking foreign interference even in our disturbed element of today. Because they overlooked this Lenin and Trotzky failed, as other foreign schemers have failed before them.

THE PRESIDENT AND FRANCE.

President Wilson's reference in his recent letter to Senator Hitchcock to the French government as being dominated by the militarists was unfortunate and unnecessary. Because France is proposing a military plan based upon a large standing army and other defense measures is no proof that she contemplates a policy of foreign aggression. She is entitled to the reasonable presumption that it is purely a protective step. Her position is peculiar and cruel experience has taught the republic that safety lies only in adequate national defense. The prostration of Germany today is no guarantee of the future. Neither is the revolution and apparent overthrow of autocracy. Racial, economic and political antagonisms are deep-seated and have not been wiped out by the results of the war. French distrust and fear of Germany are real and natural. There is for her only the past from which to judge what may lie ahead.

Idealistic hopes which center themselves in a league of nations, however practical and effective a league might be for the preservation of peace, are difficult conceptions for French statesmen to grasp. And a league without American participation would to their minds be woefully inadequate, for France can never forget what American entrance into the world war saved her from. British assistance was not enough, even when supported by Italy and for a time by Russia. France cannot take anything for granted. It must be sure of self-preservation evermore, at least so far as its own resources avail.

While France was militaristic in the sense that it used its power to enlarge its colonial possessions, it bore no likeness to the militarism of Germany. The essence of its program was self-protection. Colonial expansion was a policy imposed largely by general competition in this field among the powers. No nation today, and much less the world, has anything to fear from French aggression. Her sphere lies in an atmosphere of peace rather than force, and she would gladly recognize this fact if she could. But there is history to warn her, and a latent enemy whose potentialities and purposes are unknown to her.

President Wilson understands the predicament of France. He knows there is no militarism in control either of her government or her people of the character which made the world war its inescapable price. France has heavy burdens to carry. She has before her a period of slow and painful recuperation which would stagger will less determined. It is not for America to cast reflections upon her motives, nor to interpret her acts with innuendo. Perhaps President Wilson did not mean to. Perhaps he meant simply to express a necessary situation. Undoubtedly he employed the reference to advance the league of nations cause. Even so, it was a harsh selection. It could not have a good effect upon the French, and it has made a bad impression in America. The president ought to have refrained from such comment, or having engaged in it he should have amplified it with explanation.

The 1918 census returns of the Philippines show that the total population of the islands is 10,350,646; of this number 9,455,272 are Christians.

Mental Telepathy Comes In for Discussion Among Us

"I want to know the truth, however strange it may be," I protested.

"The stranger the more you'll like it," remarked Bob.

"What about telepathy?" I asked. I felt Bob calling me even though we were miles apart. Bob! Did you not send me a message—did you not order me to wait for you?"

"My dear wife, I certainly did not. But I did wish for you devoutly before I dropped off to sleep or became unconscious in that hidden room. I had your picture distinctly in my mind. Maybe wishing for you amounted to the same thing as sending you a message, my dear."

"Probably you always think of your wife as you drop off to sleep. It has become a habit of your brain," Spence explained. "That is the simple and perfect explanation of many deathbed hallucinations. When persons cry out that they see the dear wife or mother waiting just before they pass away, it is because they have habitually thought of the dear one when going off to sleep."

"But Bob and I have often felt a mysterious pull between us. We've often thought the same thing at the same moment, even when we've been separated. Haven't we, Bob?"

"More coincidence—and mind-habit, again," asserted Spence. "People who like each other are liable to have minds which work the same way. They think alike and come to the same conclusions simultaneously. Persons who live together a long time form the same habits—even the same thinking habits. I suppose that is why husbands and wives are said to look alike as they grow old together."

"If Jane is set on believing in telepathy, here's something which will suit her. It's quoted from a famous English investigator," said Jim, as he picked up his newspaper.

"Although not officially recognized by science, no doubt of the reality of thought transference can be left in the mind of any diligent and thoughtful student, however critical he may be."

"* * * How telepathy is propagated we have not the remotest idea. Certainly it is not likely to be through any material medium or by any physical agency known to us."

Then Spence came back in his positive manner.

"We must never forget, that the brain is so far the only instrument known which will transmit thought—the only proved instrument, I say."

"In other words, my mysterious hunches were all wrong?" I wailed.

"At any rate, thousands of cases of telepathy have been investigated in a western university. Most of them contained a flaw and were thrown out. After the element of chance had been deducted from the others, the results were valueless as proofs of the existence of telepathy."

"And yet it all seemed so real to me!" I insisted.

"It's confusing!"

"You've an open mind, or you wouldn't confess to that, Mrs. Lorimer," said Spence approvingly. "Lots of persons desire only supernatural interpretations of mysteries. They do not want plain common sense. They enjoy being hoaxed."

"And so sincere believers—like me—get in wrong with their friends, and relatives," complained Chrys. "If the believers would only keep the fakers—and professional frauds—and crooks—out of the game! The minute money enters the subject, it is time to let it alone, I think."

"There's always somebody ready to take money for hoaxing a crowd," asserted Bob.

"I suppose that is why Sir Oliver Lodge cautions people not to give so much time and attention as he has to investigating the spirit world," said Chrys.

"I want to understand it all—I want the truth. My hunches seemed so real to me. I don't understand."

"We don't understand, any of us," said Chrys. "I don't understand the ouija board, but I get results, just the same. We have to accept lots of things without understanding. We only think—"

"Whew-w! We think we think," broke in Jimmy-boy. "I've got a nice little verse for you to learn, Sissy dear. It will do you good, sure."

Then he repeated in a sing-song voice as children say their Mother Goose:

"We think so because other people all think so. Or because—or because, after all, we do think so."

Or because we were told so, and think we must think so.

Or because we once thought so and think we still think so.

Or because, having thought so, we think we will think so."

"Think about that a little, Madame Sister," Jim concluded with a fine bow to Chrys.

CLERKS DROP PEN FOR PICK

Cleveland, O.—Many hundreds of "white collar" men reported giving up the pen for the pick here this spring.

Common labor is drawing from 65 to 80 cents an hour and on May 1 the schedule will be raised to $1 an hour, according to heads of various labor unions.

They conservatively estimated that 5,000 men left their jobs in offices for employment as common laborers or in the various trades during the past six months.

Similar reports were received from other large industrial centers in Ohio. In Akron the labor shortage was said to be particularly acute. The "white collar" ranks there are thinning, rapidly. Clerks, bookkeepers, salesmen and even those in professional lines, are answering to the lure of high wages for common labor and still higher pay for semi-skilled workers.

The shortage of rooms is held as a direct cause for mounting wages. As it is practically impossible to house newcomers, manufacturing plants are forced to compete against each other for the local workers, with the result that a constant turnover of labor is on at nearly all plants with each change driving wages upward.

AMERICAN SPORTS IN PALESTINE

New York.—Baseball, rugby and track and field sports have gone into Palestine with the British Army.

Tales of the growing prowess of the Jews in athletics and the extension of athletic all branches of sport were brought back here by Morris Rivlin, who served in the Palestine campaign under General Allenby with Company D, 24th Battalion, Royal Fusiliers of the Jewish Legion.

More than 10,000 youths, he declared have been enrolled in "The Maccabians," an athletic organization designed to pattern sports after the American model. A picked Rugby team of the organization recently defeated a team of expert British soldiers.

Baseball, introduced by the American legionnaires is growing in favor, Rivlin says, and track sports are booming to such an extent that a miniature olympic is being planned for a national sports day to be set late in the summer.

To further boost interest, American instructors with American ideas of athletics are to be sent to the Hebrew University at Jerusalem which is to be opened soon by the Zionist Organization of America.

"We must elope," purred Kissel Jordan, her eyes shining like Presto-lites. "For father will never grant his consent."

Winton Allen jumped to his feet. The words struck like a Pierce-Arrow and his Anglo-Saxon blood boiled like an overheated radiator.

"Your father would put police of National fame on the Case," he said. "Weed chain them down," she cut in.

"No," said Winton. "We shall Dodge them by taking the Lexington road overland to Oakland, then we shall be at Liberty to go east. There I have a beautiful home where the veranda overlooks the Hudson. Such a dwelling I can well afford."

"When the Moon shines down on your Auburn beauty," he continued, "we shall turn over a new Paige in the Book of Life and start anew. In a Godyear we will have a little run about."

Kissel turned to hide her Peerless blush.

In the eighteenth century George Washington threw a dollar across the Delaware, but it was in the twentieth century that New Jersey threw a 3/4 cent delf across the same river.

Where is the old fashioned audience that used to pelt bad actors with eggs and vegetables?

This from the Cleveland Press:

Every day we read the reports of Senator Newberry's trial. And every day we wonder why some Americanism committee doesn't tackle the task of Americanizing Michigan.

What do y' mean, Americanization? Y' haven't heard of any May day riots of foreign riff-raff and undesirable aliens up here, have you?

DIGGING IN THE PAST

To a Petrified Man
What wondrous tale could you unfold
If you were not a clam.

Through years untold to days of old,
When you took life so calm.

When all around the frogs would sing
And south winds stirred the marshes flat,
And everything proclaimed it spring,
What old, old spring was that?

So long ago that far off year:
I found you on a knoll of sand,
No waters near but forests here
Had grown since then upon this land.

Mayhap if you apart were torn
You would disclose a precious pearl
That should be worn and should adorn
The necklace of some lovely girl.

Wonder just how short the ice shortage will be this year, or has it been decided upon yet?

It might be a good idea to salvage the ice that has been on the streets all winter. There is enough to supply the entire city all summer. A little dirt, but it is just the same as any motorist will testify.

That ho-hum we have been working on is finished and is already for the cold frame.

Autobiography of a Plain Baby—II.

A Stickler for Accuracy.

It is not to be supposed that I remember all these little details of my early infancy. I said I was just an ordinary, everyday kid. I have no better memory than any other babies. But fortunately I formed a habit early in my career of keeping a diary, else most of the incidents I am relating here would have been blurred or erased by the swift flight of time. Why, it is no time at all since I was a doddering, toe-chewing, chattering infant, and here I am two years old. Tempus certainly fugit. Were it not for this diary of mine, no doubt a good many old grannies would question my assertions of fact. You know how it is with grandmothers who raised, say, six children many years ago—and killed off, say, four, through ignorance—they have forgotten enough of the line points of the art of raising babies to keep a good many doctors busy today. A grandma with the best of intentions will declare that she did so-and-so with her babies when they were three months old; whereas had the babies kept journals it could now be shown that grandma didn't do it until they were fourteen months old. That is what time does to the human memory.

Oh, yes, I had grandmothers, and neighbors, too. But where a kid's mother is a trained nurse and his father is a doctor the grandmothers don't have much to say, and as for the neighbors, if they ever do venture to offer gratuitous advice all they get for their pains is the merry ha-ha, which rather chills their therapeutic ardor.

I never received a dose of "worm medicine" in my young life, because father believes in worms only when he finds the worms or segments thereof in the bowel discharges or eggs of the worms by microscopic examination. He says, "Let idiotic and irresponsible parents ply their unfortunate children with alleged 'worm medicine' on suspicion, if they will. We respect worm medicine, worms and children too much to indulge in that little cruelty at our home."

A baby has just got to exercise somehow. It may be that he prefers to take his exercise at an unseemly hour of the night or early morning. He means no offense; he has not yet learned the regular routine of the world. He takes his exercise by working his legs and squirming round every which way, and hollering—the hollering is really the most important part of it, because it develops and expands his lungs. Well and good. Is it fair to accuse him of having colic, worms, indigestion, teething, wind, and I don't know what all, just because he takes a little exercise now and then? Is it fair to pour into him all sorts of dope on the mere advice of some nostrum naker or other unqualified busy-body? Honest, some parents experiment on their babies with less compunction than a humane person feels in trying a remedy on a sick pup.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.
One of Those Movie Babies.
My baby man is 3 months old and I intend to wean at nine months. Would it be all right to give him whole milk right off the reel or should I dilute it and gradually give it to him? He is taking vegetables and meat broths as you suggested and doing fine, and I want to be sure about it. (Mrs. T. E. M.)

ANSWER—It would probably be well to dilute the whole milk with water or cereal gruel (barley or oatmeal), using about three parts milk and one part water. Then use less diluent each two weeks till he takes it right off the reel. My compliments to the young star, and be sure to send me a bit of his first film.

Cure American Style.
Last week I noticed an ad of the . . . . . Sanitarium which claims to be the "Pioneer American Cure for Heart Disorder" and the "American Nauheim." Will you please tell me whether the institution bears a good reputation among medical men? (Retired.)

ANSWER—There is none with a better reputation. But the manager is taking advantage of a certain literary license in using the word "cure." In Europe "cure" means merely a treatment, or a place where treatment is given; in America it means the restoration of health. In the American sense, then, the phrase is certainly questionable. But the institution is absolutely among the best in every respect.

Bedtime Lunch Is Healthful.
Please tell me whether a cup of warm milk and a cracker or a cookie is harmful to take before retiring. (E. H. D.)

ANSWER—No. A lunch just before going to bed is healthful from every point of view, provided you are not already overfed.

WOMEN ARE TAKING A MORE PROMINENT PART IN AFFAIRS

DEVELOPMENT OF WOMEN'S INTEREST IN WORLD AFFAIRS DISCUSSED BY MRS. KINSMAN

"Woman's place in the Changing World" was the subject of Mrs. D. O. Kinsman's talk at the meeting of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae Saturday afternoon in the Ormsby hall parlors. Chung-Su Kwei, one of the Chinese students of Lawrence college, had charge of the current events for the meeting and gave as his subject the student movement in China.

In opening her talk Mrs. Kinsman first dwelt on the work that logically falls to the woman as a woman and the necessity of fulfilling her duties as the homemaker. She then took up the subject of community welfare work, the additional duty that has been laid upon woman because of the industrial changes which have taken so many activities out of the home and into the factory. Mrs. Kinsman also devoted some time to the political work of woman which has come about through woman suffrage, giving the history of woman suffrage as it has come to us from England and its gradual spread thru the states.

The results of woman suffrage in Colorado as outlined by Miss Helen Sumner were quoted, showing what it has done for that state. "First that the better educated women have voted in a larger proportion than the less educated; second, certain advanced legislation has been secured for the protection of women and children, for social reform, and municipal progress; and third, the women of Colorado have become actively engaged in the study of economics."

Mrs. Kinsman pointed out the fact that authorities and students of the problem generally agree that women's interests and inclinations will be toward social work, through the ballot. "This social work will include child labor laws, wage scale for women, sanitation, food laws, and community welfare."

A decree issued by the Mexican government, authorizes the emission of 25,000,000 pesos in paper money through the monetary commission in Mexico City.

Gridiron Tread will not "climb" out of road ruts

KOKOMO Long Life Tires with White Gridiron Tread and Gray Side Walls literally "hug the road". No matter how deep the rut or how rough the going they run true. The Gridiron Tread accounts for this. This claim is not lightly made. It is based on thorough tests.

Kokomo "Long Life" is guaranteed by the manufacturers. We sell them on an adjustment basis of 6,000 miles, but they give much better mileage than that. Faith in the wear-resisting quality of pure white rubber for treads has been expressed by the Kokomo Rubber Company in these tires. Confidence in their road-gripping power has been evidenced in the adoption of the Gridiron Tread. The most trying tests on roads of all sorts have given sufficient proof of the all-around correctness, safety and dependability of these tires. The manufacturers of Kokomo Long Life Tires have been building tires for 25 years. They built the pneumatic tires for the first "Horseless Carriage". Their experience qualifies them to know, and they DO know. Try a set of Kokomo Long Life Tires with red or gray inner tubes, and prove their worth to yourself. The guarantee protects you.

ARRANGE SCHEDULE OF GAMES FOR FOX RIVER BALL LEAGUE

TWELVE GAMES WILL BE PLAYED IN APPLETON ACCORDING TO SCHEDULE ADOPTED YESTERDAY

Twelve games will be played in Appleton during the season of the Fox River Valley Baseball League, according to the schedule adopted at a meeting of the magnates of the six teams at the Sherman house yesterday afternoon. The season will open May 2 with Appleton playing at Menasha and ends September 12 with Kimberly at Appleton.

It was decided yesterday to pool all the receipts of holiday games and split the money equally between the six teams after all expenses are paid. A sinking fund of 5 per cent of total receipts of each game will be established and will be used to assist clubs meeting with financial difficulties near the close of the season.

Managers of the six clubs asserted that they are lining up their teams and are looking forward to successful seasons.

The schedule will be as follows:

CONNIE IS CARING FOR PITCHING ARMS

ALCOHOL RULES NO LONGER TO BE HAD FOR PLAYERS, BUT OTHER METHODS PROVE EFFECTIVE.

(By Fred Turberville.)
(Special to Post-Crescent.)
Lake Charles, La.—Scott Perry is getting in shape to set Babe Ruth down without a homer in the initial game of the season at Philadelphia. The Yankees and Athletics will pitch in that contest and no doubt Perry will be Connie Mack's slab choice.

Doc Ebling, athletic trainer, is taking no chances with the big right-hander's arm. Scott is coming along gradually, working off 10 or 15 pounds excess weight and gradually letting his throwing arm out.

"If Scott pitches good ball this year he'll earn his salary," says Connie, "but he'll have to pitch a lot of games and win a lot of them for he is getting a goodly sum for the year's work."

Though Connie says Scott is getting a straight salary, another story is to the effect that the big boy who jumped the team in the middle of last summer is getting $5,000 and an additional sum for each game he wins above a stipulated number.

That's the way they used to pay Rube Waddell and was the only successful method of handling the erratic left-hander.

Taking care of the pitching arms of the athletes this year is not what it was in the past. There is little or no alcohol available, according to Ebling.

"Take today, for instance," said the Doc, "when it is cold like this, and a sharp wind is blowing we always gave the men an alcohol rub. That was the best thing on a cold day because it closed the pores and prevented the athletes from catching cold. But now we're using witch-hazel and various kinds of oils. They are all right, as a rule, but give me the alcohol rub for the cold day."

One of Mack's hardest jobs is to keep the athletes from working too hard at the start. They're all young and want to go it strong.

"I wouldn't go out so early," Connie told the boys one morning. "It is an hour yet before we start practice."

He told me he had to keep them in until time to start work else they'd go on ahead and throw the ball around too much.

"I like to get them out there about the same time and make the workout short and snappy. I like to see them on the jump every minute in the early spring days. Then they won't contract any colds or sore arms and legs."

MATSUDA HAS A BAG OF TRICKS FOR THE BENEFIT OF SCHOBER

WILY JAP WILL HAVE TO STEP LIVELY TO WIN TOMORROW'S BOUT, HIS OPPONENT SAYS

When Matsuda, the Jap, meets Billy Schober, Indianapolis, in a finish bout at the armory tomorrow night for the world's middleweight championship, the fans will have an opportunity to see the leading exponent of the famous jiu jitsu style of grappling in action.

Matsuda relies extensively on the tricks of that style in defeating his opponents, and its worth is evidenced by the place which the Jap holds among middleweight wrestlers in the United States. It was a jiu-jitsu trick that put Schober out of commission for several months in a recent match with the Jap grappler at the Haymarket in Chicago.

Schober is confident that it will take more than the jiu-jitsu to pin his shoulders to the mat, and says he will win over the Jap. "Billy is just as fast and full of tricks as his oppo-

WORKERS LEAVE JOBS AT HOTEL APPLETON

CONSTRUCTION WORK STOPS WHEN BUILDING TRADES MEN REFUSE TO STAY ON THE JOB

Construction work on Hotel Appleton came to an abrupt stop this morning when from 10 to 15 men refused to go to work because, they charged, a non-union mason was employed on the job. Men who left the work included an electrician, painters, sheet metal worker, plumbers and carpenters. Union masons have not been working on the hotel for several days.

No effort will be made to secure men to take the places of those who left, it was stated this morning. In all probability the work will not be resumed until the present labor difficulty is adjusted.

At a meeting of representatives of the various building trade unions yesterday afternoon a building trades council was formed. An arbitration committee consisting of a representative from each of the building trades unions was appointed and will endeavor to handle all labor difficulties in the future.

GRAIN UP DESPITE BEARISH INFLUENCE

COMMISSION HOUSES BUY STRAIGHT BUT LITTLE GRAIN IS OFFERED — TRADERS PUZZLED

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago, March 15.—Grain futures were higher on the Chicago board of trade today. Traders were puzzled over the advance in the face of European news generally construed as bearish. There was strong buying from the opening by commission houses with but little selling. Chicago traders were inclined to be bearish. The situation was regarded as reflecting a tightness in the corn market, enhanced by light receipts. Oats moved in sympathy with corn. Provisions were lower with a falling hog market.

March corn opened late at $1.52, down 1/4¢ but later advanced 3/4¢. May corn, unchanged at the opening, $1.48, later gained 1/4¢. July corn was 1/4¢ down on opening at $1.41 1/4 thereafter advancing 1/4¢. Sept. corn opened at $1.39, up 3/4¢ and gained another 1/4¢ in later trading. May oats was 1/4¢ down at the opening, $2.34, but rose 1/4¢ before noon. July oats opened at 75 1/4¢ down 1/4¢ and advanced 3/4¢ thereafter.

BADGER SOLON HAS PLAN TO RELIEVE THE PULP FAMINE

CONGRESSMAN NELSON URGES EXTENSION OF FOREST PRO-DUCTS LAW TO TEACH
USE OF WOOD

Washington—To the efforts of Representative A. P. Nelson of the Eleventh district of Wisconsin, experts at the United States department of agriculture are giving credit for the evolution of a plan which, they say, will relieve the strain in the paper manufacturing industry for many years, should the government carry out legislation which has passed the lower house and will come from the senate committee of agriculture Tuesday.

Refuse of the lumber industry and by-products, now destroyed, will be utilized in the manufacture of pulp for print paper and towels, napkins and other articles under the Nelson plan.

Mr. Nelson's plan is for the maintenance of the Forest Products Laboratory in connection with the University of Wisconsin as a nucleus for experimenting and educating lumbermen in the use of by-products from lumber. From saw-dust, trimmings, scraps and branches, pulp for paper can be made. The "by-products" of the cotton crop now is found to be worth more than the cotton crop itself.

From this experiment station in Wisconsin the department expects to carry on a propaganda to educate and instruct farmers in marketing their timber and in reforestation.

Congress went into the pulp situation thoroughly. Testimony was taken from men engaged in the industry and from consumers of paper. They agreed that if something is not done to stop the waste, forests will be denuded in 20 years and 95 per cent of the big paper mills of the country will be closed.

Mr. Nelson said today that, with the present relief which the experiments brought about by his measure and with the transplanting and planting on denuded lands, the pulp wood would last almost indefinitely. He put the case clearly in his speech on the bill. He said, in part:

"I was to promote economy and efficiency in the utilization of wood and in processes by which forest materials are converted into commercial products that the Forest Products Laboratory was established in 1910 by the United States Forest Service at Madison, in co-operation with the University of Wisconsin. This laboratory is an institution of practical research and, with the exception of a similar, though much smaller, organization in Canada, is the only institution of its kind. Its organization of trained specialists conducts investigations into the mechanical, physical, and chemical manufacture and handling.

At the outbreak of the world war, the importance of forest products made necessary a vast amount of further information which necessitated increasing the pre-war organization. Since the close of hostilities, it has been found that results of this work during the emergency are practically all applicable to industrial needs and while lack of funds has made it necessary to reduce the organization over 50 per cent, industrial requests for wider effective dissemination and demonstration of results already secured and for further investigations are sufficient to justify an organization far greater than is possible at present. These requests are becoming increasingly numerous and failure to meet them is causing incalculable losses to the country. For example, one of the conspicuous lines of work which should be greatly expanded is the investigations to develop the general laws for box and container construction. Tests, with proper cooperation with producers and shippers, will rapidly reduce unnecessary losses.

A system of grading for structural timber has been developed and commercially adopted only for southern pines and the Douglas fir of the west. Similar rules should be developed for hemlock and other woods.

The scarcity of timber will result in the use of built-up timbers. Two years of war brought pronounced changes in this direction. In addition to structural timbers, there are great possibilities in the use of laminated and built-up construction for many other purposes, such as wagon parts and smaller articles, like shoe lasts. Any such development increases utilization, reduces the cost of material and losses and time in drying. Fundamental strength tests should be completed for all American species.

PRESIDENT AGAIN REJECTS EFFORTS TO SETTLE FIGHT

LETTERS TO SENATOR HITCHCOCK INDICATE THAT WILSON WILL REJECT ALL COMPROMISES

Washington. — President Wilson has delivered another blow to ratification of the treaty with reservations protective of the "special American interests."

It transpired today that within the last forty-eight hours there has been a new exchange of correspondence between Senator Hitchcock, Democratic senate leader, and the White House, in which the president flatly rejected the latest compromise on article X, and the revised version of all other reservations put forward to catch Democratic votes.

Mr. Wilson inclosed the modifications adopted and suggested in a letter in which he asserted that he found the revised reservations fully as nullifying of the covenant as the original Lodge reservations.

This was the president's reception of the efforts of Senator Simmons, Democrat, to work out a compromise, which would command a two-thirds vote of the senate on the ratification roll call. He calculated that he was only two votes short of the requisite number when the president's latest pronouncement reached Senator Hitchcock and upset the compromise program.

Several Democrats who had promised Simmons their support immediately dodged back into the administration lines and the North Carolina senator abandoned his project.

With the president stiffening his opposition to reservations that really reserve, the defeat of the treaty in the senate this week is the prospect. There is only one development that can assure ratification and it is desertion of the White House of about thirty Democrats on the final roll call.

The spirit of revolt is strong on the Democratic side, particularly among senators who are candidates for reelection this year, and who dislike the prospect of facing their constituents on the president's issue of the league without qualification. Mr. Hitchcock is prepared for the defection of as many as twenty-five Democrats. He is confident that he can hold seventeen in line, and with the fifteen Republican and four Democratic irrevocables defeat ratification with the reservations by four votes.

There are some who predict from long experience with such situations that there will be a sufficient break in the Democratic ranks at the last minute to accomplish ratification.

many to show that Kapp has not the support of the majority of the people.

Reports regarding the whereabouts of President Ebert and Noske were conflicting. There has been no confirmation of advices late Saturday that they had been arrested. In some quarters it was said that Noske is raising a military force to act against the revolution.

The decision of railway workers to join the general strike movement came, it was said, after von Kapp had refused to accede to the union's ultimatum that he resign.

There were other indications that socialists of the Ebert group have not abandoned hope of unseating the revolutionists. Functionaries of the union of social employees, it was reported, have refused to acknowledge von Kapp and have announced they will act in concert with the railway workers.

Secretaries of state, it was understood have decided unanimously to remain in Berlin to expedite current business, but have refused to have wehr and the police have reaffirmed their loyal support to President Ebert. The commander of the Reichswehr in Munich has refused to obey orders from General von Luetwitz, the revolutionary defense minister, a dispatch says.

Dictator von Kapp has authorized Berlin newspapers to resume publication today, a dispatch said, but it was believed the general strike will render it impossible for the publishers to get workers. The French foreign office in a statement to the United Press declared that the monarchistic trend of the revolution now is unquestionable. It regarded the report that Prince Eitel Friederich will be made emperor as premature, however.

"It is too soon for the revolutionists to throw off their disguise," the foreign office said.

Telegraph service between Paris and Berlin was irregular today.

Call General Strike

Paris.—A Munich dispatch says that workers there have proclaimed a general strike.

It is reported, the dispatch says, that a republic of soviet has been proclaimed at Hof and Schweinfurt. Schweinfurt is in Unter Franken, 225 miles southwest of Berlin. Hof is an important city in Ober Franken, about 175 miles southwest of Berlin.

Ebert Stands Firm

London.—The government of President Ebert has refused to negotiate with the Berlin revolutionists, Ebert kaiser of Germany and his son, the former crown prince.

Alarmed by reports of the monarchistic tendencies of the revolution in Berlin, the Dutch authorities, the dispatches said, have increased their guard on the former emperor's retreat.

Cabinet Meets Tuesday

London.—An Exchange Telegraph dispatch by way of Amsterdam says the new German revolutionary cabinet will meet Tuesday.

The cabinet, according to the dispatch, has ordered the arrest of Mathias Erzberger, former minister of finance under President Ebert.

A News Agency dispatch from Berlin says President Ebert and Chancellor Bauer will be arrested on charges of high treason.

BIBLE PREDICTS ANOTHER BIG WAR, MINISTER ASSERTS

DEFEAT OF THE TURK AND BANISHMENT FROM EUROPE FORECAST BY THE HOLY WRIT

Will the Turk Leave Europe? was the subject on which the Rev. Mr. Tolt of Oshkosh spoke Sunday night at the Seventh Day Adventist church on the corner of Richmond and Gilmore streets. He used for his authorities the Bible "the most up-to-date book in the world, because it not only gives past history, but it looks ahead, even into eternity," and there are many well known English and American statesmen who realize the importance of this "greatest political event of today."

"Constantinople is the gateway from the Occident to the Orient, the cross upon which the peace of Europe has been crucified. For years it has been the bone of contention of many nations, and the Turk would have been driven from Europe long ago if it had not been for England. England fears a Moslem uprising in her possessions if the Turk is driven from Constantinople, for the Sultan of Turkey is to the Mohammedans what the Pope is to the Roman Catholics. The Turk has always had someone to help him, but if God's word is true there will come a day when "none shall help him." The eleventh chapter of Daniel gives a wonderful forecast of the history of the world from the Persian Empire to the close of human history. In Daniel 11:44, 45 we have the prophecy concerning the Turk and his end," said Mr. Tolt.

"But with the end of the Turk, what will then come? Three times in the history of the world, have the heathen nations almost conquered the Western world, but at the very gates of Christendom the mighty hand of God has, turned them back. These three conquests were made by Xerxes, Attila and the Turks, and once more in the history of the world will all the heathen nations come to fight against the Christian nations. This last great war is foretold in Joel 3:9-13, and the battle ground, where the Kings of the East will gather their mighty hordes, is called Armageddon, in Palestine, as told in Rev. 16: 14-16. As before, God's hand will stay the conflict, and Christ will return to save His people," he continued.

In The Literary Digest of 1914, Mr. Mann said: "As certain as the sun will rise tomorrow, that conflict will come between the far East and the West. History teaches us, that this conflict cannot be evaded." In agreement with this same belief many other eminent authorities were quoted. In spite of the peace talk, it is just as inevitable today, Fear and distrust are urging the nations to make preparations for the coming conflict. England is building up its army, America its navy, China is preparing to train its vast numbers, and Japan, with money made in the war is secretly militant.

"With this in view, surely we are standing on the brink of eternity, and you and I will see the great climax of human history," concluded Mr. Tolt.

Mr. Tolt will speak again next Sunday night on the optimistic side of this great world event.

SPRINGTIME ALWAYS TURNS TOWARDS THE SUIT

As one of its happiest mediums of expression

Women who favor the suit will do well to come now to make their selections. The tailored suit stands out as a great favorite this season; and the sports model is equally well liked. Many good models are shown in both styles.

Jaunty suits for the slender figure of any age. Straight line graceful skirts with variously shaped coats—bolero box, high waisted shirred or ripple flare, and the always desirable straight line belted model.

For the larger figures are featured fashionable regular and short stouts. These suits embody all the requirements of the types who find it difficult to be fitted. They vary little in style from the smaller sizes. A large size need not be mature looking.

For the woman who requires a size 38, 40 or 42 are shown distinct models to meet her individual needs. Strictly tailored semi-fitted, sometimes braid or silk bound, or semi-tailored introducing a little soft fullness at the waist or hip line. The more formal type is artistically braided and embroidered

NEWS OF OUTAGAMIE COUNTY AND WISCONSIN

WOLF RIVER OFFERS POWER OPPORTUNITY

SUFFICIENT POWER CAN BE GENERATED BY NEARBY STREAM TO SUPPLY MANY CITIES

Antigo, Wis.—The recent prediction by an official of the John I. Bezze Co., that development of water power at Gardner dam probably would be accomplished within the next two or three years has directed renewed attention to water power possibilities on the Wolf river.

The electrical power that can be developed on this stream, it is estimated, is sufficient to meet existing and future needs of all the cities in its watershed with much to spare.

The Wolf river is swift and turbulent over the greater part of its course from Pine lake, where it rises, near the Soo bridge in Forest county, almost to the city of Shawano.

Between its source and Shawano the river receives numerous tributaries—Swamp creek, which is the outlet of Sand, Stone and Hemlock lakes; the Pickering and Lily rivers; Nine Mile creek and the Hunting, Evergreen and Little Wolf rivers.

The first good dam site below Pine lake is at Lower Post lake, where an old wooden flow control dam is still maintained. This provides a head of about 10 feet that could be increased to about 28 feet by extending the flume 100 rods.

Another site for a dam is presented at the confluence of the Lily and Wolf rivers where at least an eight-foot head could be materially increased by lengthening the flume. It has been proposed to create a head of 90 feet at Gardner dam and one of from 45 to 50 feet could be secured in the falls of the Wolf river. Other possible dam sites are at Langlade, Smoky Falls, Big Eddy and Keshena Falls.

In addition to offering numerous sites for power plants with abundant head, the Wolf river, with its tributaries also provides opportunities for developing reservoirs which will insure a regulated and adequate flow.

A GOOD FRIEND

A good friend stands by you when in need. Appleton people tell how Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test. Mrs. Ed. Kolczek of 929 Lawe St., Appleton, endorsed Doan's six years ago and again confirms the story. Could you ask for more convincing testimony?

"Doan's Kidney Pills have given me more relief than any remedy I ever used for kidney trouble," says Mrs. Kolczek. "I suffered greatly with a lame back and pains across my loins. My kidneys didn't act regularly at all. The use of Doan's Kidney Pills regulated my kidneys, relieved me of the backaches and pains and benefited me in every way. Other members of the family have also used Doan's for such trouble with good results. We always keep a supply of them in the house."

The above statement was given July 14, 1913, and on September 13, 1919, Mrs. Kolczek said: "My previous recommendation of Doan's Kidney Pills holds good. I think just as much, if not more, of Doan's, because I have used them several times since, with the best of results. My faith in them is unbounded."

BLISS NATIVE HERB TABLETS

The pain from Rheumatism is usually the result of the failure of the KIDNEYS to remove the uric acid crystals, and also because you are CONSTIPATED. BLISS NATIVE HERB TABLETS are the product of roots, herbs, and barks that act on the bowels and kidneys, removing the waste product that poisons the blood. One BLISS NATIVE HERB TABLET at night will relieve you the same as it did G. L. Kelle, Nace, Va., who says: "For one winter I suffered with muscular rheumatism. I tried all the remedies I heard of without gaining relief, and I can't tell you how I suffered. A physician prescribed for me, and I also tried electricity. But nothing relieved me permanently until I used BLISS NATIVE HERB TABLETS as directed. Thanks to DOCTOR A. O. BLISS, I shall always praise BLISS NATIVE HERB TABLETS. They agreed that it was a sound business proposition for them to promote land clearing and for them to boost the million dollar land clearing contest. As an

MANY ENTERTAINED AT LOST DAUPHIN'S HOME

ELIAZAR WILLIAMS' HOME NEAR DEPERE ATTRACTED BRILLIANT MINDS OF THE "EARLY DAYS"

Kaukauna, Wis.—On the brow of the bluff, overlooking the Fox river, near the village of Little Rapids, stands an unpainted house, prominent in historic interest, once the home of Eleazar Williams, an Episcopal missionary among the Oneida Indians and often referred to as the last dauphin of France. The house is the original one, which formerly stood on a point of land extending far out into the river.

In 1847, when the DePere dam was built, the overflow of water submerged the point and the Rev. Williams had the house razed, the logs carried to the present location and the house rebuilt.

Probably no man ever lived who had as many birthplaces and parents as did Eleazar Williams. Every writer has a different version of his ancestry. Whether he was the son of Louis XVI and Marie Antoinette, whose frivolity caused the overthrow of the French throne, or the son of Thomas Williams, the halfbreed, and his Indian wife, his life was spent in the interest of others.

His study, apart from his dwelling, filled with rare volumes and works of art, gave mute evidence of his intellect and ability. His home was the stopping place of such men as Judge James Duane Doty, Gov. Nelson Dewey, Judge John Lave, Solomon Juneau, the Grignons, Episcopal and Catholic clergy and other notables.

In 1821 the Rev. Williams brought a band of Oneida Indians from the state of New York and colonized them on a tract of land about eight miles from Green Bay, containing 65,000 acres, obtained through a government treaty with the Menominee Indians.

In 1823 he married Madeline, the beautiful 14-year-old daughter of Joseph Jourdain and a mixed-blood Menominee mother. Shortly after their marriage they visited the east, where she created a sensation by her extreme beauty and queenly bearing.

In 1884 Prince de Joinville, son of Louis Philippe of France, visited Green Bay and while there had an interview with the Rev. Williams in which he sought to have the minister sign a document renouncing all claims to the throne of France, which he refused to do. The prince presented him with a handsome gold chain and cross, and on his return to France sent him many beautiful presents, among them a dress worn by Marie Antoinette. Whoever or whatever the Rev. Williams may have been and what material difference did it make to the in-

This committee will work out the details. It is probable that the county will be divided into seven districts, each district to be a unit in itself in the contest.

Mexico and Protestant Missions

Intervention in Mexico would set back Christian work in Mexico a hundred years. While Americans might say they were acting for the good of Mexico, Mexicans would never believe it. They believe they have a right to work out their own salvation with spiritual help from their Christian neighbors. Now that American mission boards have arranged to give this help in a larger measure and the opportunities for preaching the Gospel are so great it would be an immeasurable crime for the American people to make war on Mexico.—The Christian Herald.

SUFFERED FOR TWENTY YEARS

Nothing Agreed With Him and Nerves Unstrung—Feels Fine After Taking Tanlac.

"Yes, sir, I suffered for the past twenty years from stomach trouble, and you can imagine how much a man thinks of a medicine that rids him of troubles that had worried him that long," said James Thomas Prout, of 629 Murray avenue, Milwaukee, Wis., while telling of his remarkable recovery since taking Tanlac.

"After every meal I always suffered terribly, for not a thing agreed with me," continued Mr. Prout. "I would bloat up with gas until I could hardly breathe and my heart would palpitate something awful. I had severe pains in my stomach and a feeling of depression in my chest. About ten years ago my nerves broke down and had been getting worse until they were in a miserable condition. I had awful headaches in the fore part of my head that would nearly drive me frantic and was so restless that when I went to bed I would lie awake for hours, unable to get a wink of sleep. I was so weak and run-down that I just felt all in and could hardly do my work."

"That was my condition before I began taking Tanlac, and it seems too good that, after all these years, I am at last in perfect health. In all I took six bottles of Tanlac, and the way it has knocked my troubles winding is a surprise to me. I have such a fine appetite that I can hardly satisfy it and I digest food perfectly. The pains in my stomach and the depressing feeling in my chest have all-left me, my nerves are as steady as a clock and I sleep like a log all night long. Headaches don't bother me now, in fact nothing ever troubles me and I can do as big a day's work as any man. I have been built up in every way and am feeling better and stronger than I have in years."

Tanlac is sold in Appleton by John E. Voigt and by leading druggists in every town.

TANK COMPANY WILL BE FORMED IN STATE

MEN OF SUPERIOR PHYSICAL AND MENTAL CAPACITIES MAY JOIN NEW ORGANIZATION

(Special to Post-Crescent)

Madison, Wis.—Official notice having been received by the adjutant general from "Washington" that Wisconsin has been assigned a tank company, there is now an opportunity for some city or cities to have an organization in that branch of service. The company will consist of a headquarters section of 2 officers and 87 men and three platoons of 1 second lieutenant and 15 men each. The platoons need not be located in the same city, although it is desired to have them close enough together to enable the captain to have direct supervision over all.

The enlisted personnel of the platoon is 5 sergeants (4 tank commanders and 1 mechanic), 5 corporals (tank drivers), 5 privates. The headquarters section is to have a captain, 2 first lieutenants, 2 sergeants, 1 first class (one to act as first sergeant), 10 corporals (company commanders), 1 tank driver, 1 signal tank driver, 12 reserve tank commanders, 2 cooks, 50 privates, 1st class, 16 reserve drivers, 2 motorcycle drivers, 32 chauffeurs, 15 privates.

It is directed in the Washington instructions that the organizing start with one platoon and after the organization of company headquarters detached platoons may be organized. Officers should be possessed of superior physical and mental activity with a practical knowledge of gas engines and operation, and emergency repairs of motor cars. Enlisted men as far as possible should have some experience as chauffeurs, tractor drivers and auto mechanics. The pay is the same as the corps of engineers.

Before a place can get a tank company, it will be necessary to have the proper building for the housing of the tanks and also a 5 acre tract of land, preferably rough pasture, for drill purposes. Exclusive use of the land is not necessary.

Each company will at first be equipped with three MG tanks and three 37 MM gun tanks. When company is completely organized more tanks will be issued.

The Wisconsin company will be Co. I, and will be in the same battalion as Co. G, Illinois and Co. H, Ohio. Twelve states get one company each.

you want to know, most about her? Judging from my horde of men correspondents you'll ask, just how affectionate is she, and how will she show it?

That's the easiest thing to deduce from writing. Does she write a nice, round hand, inclined rightward at not more than 30 degrees? She's kind and pleasant and if you make passionate love to her she'll say, "Don't be silly." Does she incline her writing at an angle of 60 degrees, and is it partly angular, and full of eccentric formations? If you don't make passionate love to her she'll commit suicide. She's that kind. Fascinating and ardent and highly emotional and loving to be loved to a degree that's not only unusual but appalling. Does she use an angular, almost upright hand with long "t" bars, and close, accurate letter formations? Hump, thee, my son, along the path of diligence, for verily, she will demand of thee a bigger income every year, and she will hoard it, until thou shalt pass away smothered by thy own dollars, and cheated of everything else that the heart of man may desire.

Does she write a back hand, nice and round and clear? She won't care a pin whether you kiss her or not, but she'll sugar if you put your shoes one inch away from their allotted place. If it's a back hand, and full of sudden splashes of ink, and big, uncontrolled capitals, and long, aggressive "l" bars, then she is jealous as the mischief, but devoted and ardent; the kind of girl who kisses you only after you've begged her for weeks, and nearly eats you alive when she finally gets it.

WILL TRY TO FREE HUBBY FROM CELL

WAR BRIDE IS SOLACE OF UNJUSTLY IMPRISONED SOLDIER AS FRIENDS PLEAD RELEASE

(By Mabel Abbott)
(Special to Post-Crescent)

Kansas City, Kan.—There is a silver lining to the dark cloud that overshadows John Beggs, Irish-born soldier in the American army, in his cell at Fort Leavenworth. Beggs is serving a six-year sentence for the accidental killing of two German civilians after the armistice.

The silver lining is Mrs. Helen Downey Beggs, the girl who married him while the decision of the court-martial was pending.

"I could be of little assistance to you as a sweetheart," she told Beggs, "but as a wife I can be of real help. Someone will listen to me."

Fate played a grim trick on John Beggs.

He came to America seven years ago. Two days before this country entered the war he enlisted as a private in the 137th Infantry. He was promoted and after his outfit got into action he became a lieutenant.

His best friend in France was Lieutenant Ernest V. Downey of Brooklyn, N. Y. Downey sent Beggs' picture home and showed Beggs the picture of his family, including a pretty little sister of 20 years.

After the armistice Downey came to America. Beggs went into Germany with the Army of Occupation. Just before he was scheduled to return to his country he, with several other soldiers, celebrated by a little target shooting in the German town of Seeburg and two aged Germans were killed.

Beggs was arrested, charged with "involuntary manslaughter," and tried by court-martial. Nobody thought he would be punished.

Announcement of decision was delayed and Beggs came to America, under guard. Downey met him and visited him often. He also took his sister to see Beggs.

One day Beggs told her he wanted to marry her when he was out of trouble. She suggested they didn't need to wait on that account and they were married at the New York City Jail.

And then, six months after the court-martial, the blow fell. Beggs must serve six years in federal prison.

He is there now. His former officers and his friends are putting his case before the War Department.

And Mrs. Beggs has come to Kansas City to help them!

During the first ten months of 1919, 1107 fewer railroad employees were killed and 25,930 fewer injured than during the corresponding period of 1918.

NO TRACE OF MISSING BELOIT MAN

Beloit, Wis.—The police thus far have found no trace of Adam Luck-singer, 70 years old of Beloit, who disappeared on March 1 while en route to Chicago to consult a physician. He had $700 with him.

Fred Luck-singer, son of the missing man, went to Chicago to personally direct the search for his father. The son fears his father has been taken suddenly ill in Chicago and has been unable to communicate with his relatives here.

The description of the Beloit man, as furnished to hundreds of cities by the Chicago detective bureau in an effort to locate Luck-singer, is as follows:

Five feet, 7 inches tall, slim build, brown-gray mixed hair and mustache, ears were pierced, wore a dark light-weight overcoat and dark blue suit.

Sick for Five Years and Given Up

Pontiac, Mich.—"A few years ago I was in a very bad state. I had been sick for about five years. I had several good doctors but kept getting worse all the time. Some said I had consumption; some one thing, and some another. I finally made up my mind they did not know what did ail me. I began to think I was never going to get better."

I had tried several different kinds of medicines but nothing seemed to give me any relief. One day I saw Dr. Pierce's medicines advertised and I got a bottle of "Golden Medical Discovery" and it began to help me. I felt that I had some other weakness. I got the "Favorite Prescription" and the "Pleasant Pellets" also, and these medicines cured me completely in just one year when I had doctored five years before. I am very grateful to Dr. Pierce for my good health and keep his medicines in my home for immediate use. I consider they saved me lots of suffering and doctors' bills as well. I have recommended Dr. Pierce's remedies to many people and will gladly reply to anyone wanting to know about these medicines and what they did for me."—MRS. R. J. BALDWIN, 246 Norton

INTERLAKE BASKET BALL TEAM FINISHES SEASON WITH A WIN

TURNERS OF GREEN BAY ARE LATEST VICTIMS — TEAM WON 22 OUT OF 30 GAMES IN SEASON

The Interlake Pulp and Paper Company's basketball team closed a successful season Saturday night by defeating the crack Turner team of Green Bay at Co. G. Armory by a score of 20 to 14. Playing fast ball both teams put up an excellent floor game, the Turners using the five man defense to excellent advantage the first half and lead by a 7 to 6 count at half time.

The Turners started the scoring with a pretty field goal by Gruenwald in the first minute of play. This was soon tied by Plotow, playing right forward for the Interlakes. However, after several minutes of fast floor work Gruenwald again scored followed by another field goal by Roudon, the Green Bay center. With the count 6 to 2 against them the Interlake boys took a brace and after fast floor work Plotow again counted. In the next minute of play Gregory, the local center gaged a long one from the center of the floor tying the score. Just before time was called E. Kapp shot a free throw putting the Green Bay team one point to the good.

The second half was a repetition of the first with Day, the regular right forward for the Pulp mill playing in Plotow's place. The Turners again started strong, eging two baskets in quick succession. At this point of the game, Rock, local left forward came through with two baskets and Gregory also added two more giving the Interlakers a lead which they maintained to the end of the game.

The game Saturday night closed the first basketball season of an Interlake basketball team. The team has won 22 out of 30 games and has played most of the fast teams in this section of the state.

With this team in the field next year the Interlakes should rank with the best in the state and will undoubtedly have an excellent record in 1920-21.

Following is the score for Saturday night's game:

Of Interest to Expectant Mothers

Goshen, Ind.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound with good results after I had suffered for some time with female trouble. Some years ago I had twin boys and took your Vegetable Compound before they came also before my four year old boy was born, and afterwards, and think it fine for such cases. I tell others what it did for me and you may publish my testimonial."

—Mrs. Geo. A. Foos, 711 S. 9th St., Goshen, Indiana.

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Every woman at this time should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong and this good old fashioned root and herb remedy contains no narcotics or harmful drugs.

TRAINING BOARD IS FIZZLING JOB

ONLY 271 FORMER SERVICE MEN HAVE BEEN GIVEN POSITIONS BY FEDERAL BOARD.

(Special to Post-Crescent.)

New York.—Charges published by the New York Evening Post expose the fact that 14 months after the signing of the armistice, 75 per cent of the American soldiers disabled or hurt in the war are still waiting for the Federal Board for Vocational Training to assist them.

The board has been in existence 19 months. It has trained and placed in gainful employment a total of 217 former service men!

It is estimated that there are 110,000 men eligible for training. The board employs 3,000 clerks, or 10 times the number of wounded soldiers so far placed in gainful employment.

Congress has provided $21,000,000 for the training of disabled men and it is estimated that the ultimate cost may be $250,000,000.

Thirty per cent of the men approved for training become disgusted at the delays and throw up their chances.

Ten per cent abandon the training courses after they enter them.

In last December, the board paid out $386,807 in salaries to 3,252 employees—and but $139,335 in tuition for the training of 21,557 disabled soldiers.

Duplication of work is said to exist to such a degree that as many as five copies of a single form are made out.

The board is responsible only to Congress, and violations of civil service rules are among the serious accusations made by investigators.

A circular order sent out to some agents of the board contains the following suggestions:

"The organs used in approving cases are the eyes and the brain. The ears and the heart do not function."

"Be hard-boiled. Members of the district office staffs will beat you over the head with verbal pressure. District pressure causes all our mistakes. Put cotton in your ears and lock the door. If you are naturally sympathetic, work nights when nobody is there."

The New York office has just signed a lease on new quarters for $80,000, or one dollar per square foot more than any other tenant in the building.

President Wilson wrote, on Nov. 29, 1918, that the obligation to train disabled soldiers was a "draft of honor, which the United States accepted when it selected these men and took them in their health and strength to fight the battles of the nation."

DRYS MUST KEEP ON WITH THEIR EFFORTS, ATTORNEY ASSERTS

IMPORTANCE OF VOTING IN THE PRIMARIES EMPHASIZED BY B. N. HICKS AT THE Y. M. C. A.

B. N. Hicks, attorney for the Wisconsin Anti-Saloon League, addressed a large sized crowd at the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon on the present legal status of the prohibition amendment, explaining the legal problems and contentions of both wets and drys. He closed his address with a plea to the voters to continue the good work by participating in every election, especially in the primaries.

There is an absolute prohibition law, Mr. Hicks declared. We have in section one of the amendment, clearly stated, a measure preventing the sale and manufacture of intoxicating liquor. In section 2, as amended, Mr. Hicks explained, a standard of alcoholic content is set at one-half of one per cent.

Wisconsin has the Mulberger bill which permits sale of liquor of 2 1/2 per cent alcoholic content. The situation then becomes this, that federal and state officials working on prohibition violations are unable to co-operate in their efforts. State officials may prosecute alleged violators for handling liquor of 2 1/2 per cent alcoholic content or over, while federal officers fix the limit at one-half of one per cent, the speaker explained.

Under the Mulberger bill as first presented, Mr. Hicks said, liquor of 2 1/2 per cent in weight, which is more than 3 1/2 per cent in volume, the government standard, was permitted.

A referendum will be the next recourse of the wets if the legal fight fails, was the opinion of Attorney Hicks. The speaker pointed out the danger of this, declaring that the 1. W. W., numbering more than 1,000,000 members, all wets, are not aligned with either party, and would be a big factor in such an election. The wets are attempting to dominate both party conventions, the speaker said, and may succeed, "although I don't think they will."

Attorney Hicks explained the fight carried on by the league in the primaries to elect men favoring prohibition. He quoted Mr. Austin, attorney for the wets, that "we (the wets) were defeated the day after the primaries because the league had put forth every effort to nominate the men in the primaries and had succeeded."

The afternoon meeting was preceded by a splendid musical program, which included numbers by the Misses

Eleanor Dunn and Irene Albrecht. Clement Ketchum, was the vocal soloist. George F. Werner, who conducted the meeting, announced two more programs would conclude the Sunday meetings for this season. Dr. D. O. Kinsman of Lawrence college, will deliver an address on "The League of Nations" March 21.

Water Distillation in the Desert.

In the big desert of Chile there is a considerable amount of brackish water, but no water that either human beings or stock can drink. Science, however, has come to the aid of this rainless section of the country in the form of an ingenious desert waterworks, consisting of a series of frames containing 20,000 square feet of glass. The panes of glass are arranged in the shape of a V, and under each pane is a shallow pan containing brackish water. The heat of the sun evaporates the water, which condenses upon the sloping glass, and made pure by this operation, it runs down into little channels at the bottom of the V and is carried away into the main canal. Nearly 1,000 gallons of fresh water is collected daily by this means.

A victory tax of one-half of 1 per cent on all sales has been proposed in Congress, to secure funds to pay a bonus of $200 to each discharged service man.

DEATH IS STALKING AT DOOR OF POLAND

MOTHERHOOD SEEMS MOCKERY AND FAMILIES STARVE TO DEATH IN FILTHY
HOVELS

(Special to Post-Crescent)
War-an-motherhood in the homes of the Polish poor seems a mockery. I visited today the home of a mother and her three children. It was high in a tenement above a stable yard and the one small window looked over muddy cobblestones and pools of filthy water.

There was a stove, a wooden stool and pile of indescribable bedding where the mother and the three children sleep together to keep warm. This mother had only the potatoes cooked by sympathetic neighbors. She and her stunted babies clung to my skirts thanking God for the few marks I gave them.

I found an old man and his wife and two grandchildren huddled together in a underground room. The children's parents died sleeping on the bare floor of the place. This old man, a refugee from the eastern border, is Jewish and highly educated. He could obtain work of any kind, though he trumped the city for six months. They are living on refuse.

The woman's mind is failing and the children are partially fed by other families who are scarcely less miserable than they.

Who is to care for these children when the grandparents are dead?

The orphanages themselves are poverty-stricken and overcrowded now with children. There is no public money in Poland for these purposes.

A large part of Poland is ravaged by the fumes of famine.

What America has already sent has done wonders and is greatly appreciated, but, in mercy's name, won't the people of America send more—help Poland quickly before her people forget the meaning of the word "home."

BILL RUMLER STICKS TO PACIFIC COAST LEAGUE

Cubs and Sox Bid for Star Batter of Salt Lake City Team but Bill Stands Pat

(Special to Post-Crescent)

Salt Lake City—It is understood that Manager Fred Mitchell, who is spring-training with his Chicago Cubs in Pasadena, Cal., is hot after Bill Rumler, outfielder of the Salt Lake City club in the Pacific Coast league and who headed that circuit in batting last season with a percentage of .362 in 151 games. The Red Sox have offered two players for Rumler, but the Salt Lake City mags shook their heads.

After Rumler had affixed his John Hancock to a 1920 Bee contract he declared that now his only worry was to bring his batting up to .400 this season. Last year his record shows 21 safe cracks out of 501 trips to the plate, 17 of them being home runs, 17 three-baggers and 32 doubles. He beat the famous Sam Crawford, who plays for Los Angeles now, by two points.

Rumler demanded an increase in salary and threatened to jump to the Yellowstone independent league that claims to have "Chick" Gandil's, Chicago White Sox first-sacker, name to a contract. He got his raise.

If Rumler clouts the ball better than last season Salt Lake City will have a hard time keeping him out of the majors.

CHICAGO MEN SET A NEW WORLD'S BOWLING RECORD

Peoria, Ill.—The Brucks No. 1 of Chicago broke the world's record in the five man events at the American Bowling congress on a late shift Saturday night, shooting for a total of 3,096 pins.

The former record of 3,061 was held by Birks Brothers of Chicago and was made at Grand Rapids in 1917. Phil Wolf led in the scoring for the new record holders, his three games netting 680 pins. The Brucks rolled consistently throughout their exhibition, getting 1,028 in the second and 1,026 in the third.

BELOIT DEFEATED BY RIPON BASKET STARS

Red and White Quintette Tightens Hold on State Title by Winning From State Line School.

Ripon, Wis.—Beloit college went down to defeat at the hands of the strong Ripon college quintet here Saturday night by a score of 29 to 11. This eliminated the Line city aggregation from an claim to the Little Five conference title. Ripon college has not been defeated by any of the state teams this season with the exception of the Wisconsin university five, who took them into camp for two straight contests.

Lunde, at left guard for Ripon, played his last game, and incidentally was the star of the contest. His wonderful ability to work the ball into shooting distance for his teammates was by far the greatest work displayed on the floor during the contest. In spite of his wonderful and close guarding, he managed to slip away and cage a pretty basket from deep center.

Beloit did not have a chance from the start. The first half ended with Ripon leading by a 11 to 4 score and coming back in the second half they again started their whirlwind attack and scored enough baskets to bring the count up to 29 points. Beloit, however, worked better in the second half and managed to score seven points.

Oshkosh High school defeated Wabena 33 to 14 in the high school championship race at Ripon Saturday afternoon. Grafton defeated Tomah 17 to 12.

Oshkosh, in defeating Grafton 33 to 11, topped third place in the championship meet.
